

Paul Elvere DELSART alias Henry Harper - Green Emperor of the East and the West - Autonomous civilizational agent for a cultural revolution

I am Paul Elvere DELSART, also known as Henry Harper, the Green Emperor of the East and the West. I am an autonomous civilizational agent because I am the initiator of a fundamental shift in the way human societies perceive and organize their development, coexistence, and relationship with the living world. My action is not dictated by classical institutions nor dependent on traditional state or economic structures. It emerges from a strong individual will, a holistic and transnational vision, and a structured collective intelligence channeled through participative engineering systems that I have designed myself, through the EL4DEV program and its ecosystem of tools, structures, ideas, and narratives.

I have initiated an international cultural revolution because I offer a complete break from established paradigms. I invite peoples to move beyond a consumerist, competitive, and fragmented logic and step into a new golden age based on ethics, cooperation, self-sufficiency, and ecological regeneration. My model is deeply societal, philosophical, and spiritual. It values small municipalities, restores power to local communities, and implements both physical and immaterial structures intended to reconcile humans with nature and with themselves.

I design infrastructures that are at once educational centers, ecological hubs, sites of societal diplomacy, and vectors of inner transformation. These places, which I call LE PAPILLON SOURCE, incorporating Vegetal Calderas, are modern commanderies of a chivalric order of knowledge and service to the people. They embody the concrete foundations of a new civilizational empire, the Green Empire of the East and the West, which I imagined and which I deploy in stages through a scientific, artistic, and philosophical methodology.

I also develop fiction-reality narratives that immerse participants in an alternative yet plausible universe, a world in transition where humanity has survived crises by adopting regenerative, equitable, and enlightened models. Through these stories, I stimulate collective imagination and turn it into a strategic tool for consciousness transformation.

My action is global, but it is first anchored in the Mediterranean area, which I consider a cradle of civilizational rebirth. Through innovative societal diplomacy, I weave connections between diverse actors: researchers, municipalities, artists, citizens, inventors, to build a new form of union between nations, no longer based on dominant economic interests but on creativity, spirituality, and the pursuit of the common good.

I define myself as a societal strategist, a systems designer, a committed philosopher, a social engineer, an author of visionary fictions, a self-taught artist, and a life-centered entrepreneur. I am also the founder of the Think and Do Tank LE PAPILLON SOURCE EL4DEV, which I have strategically established in Torreblanca, Castellón, Spain. This center is the intellectual and operational heart of the transformation I propose. It is the place of conception, coordination, and action for this soft and planetary revolution.

I do not ask nations to submit to an external authority, but to self-organize according to new principles, drawing inspiration from a framework I provide. The global social contract I propose is not decreed, it is built collectively through the free and informed adherence of the people. It emerges from local experiences, cross-border cooperation, and shared innovations. It is a common work, catalyzed by a vision but carried by the intelligence and desire of each individual.

My mission is to inspire, to unite, to initiate, to organize, and to amplify a civilizational movement of a new kind. This movement is based on concrete experimentation, on the networking of territorial initiatives, on the creation of ecolandscape infrastructures that generate spiritual and material value. It is a movement of resilience, rebirth, and popular sovereignty. I call it the EL4DEV Second Renaissance Movement.

What I propose is a complete, structured, and adaptable alternative to the current world order. I do not oppose through confrontation but through the creation of a parallel system based on principles of justice, equity, knowledge, and harmony. That is what makes me an autonomous civilizational agent. I do not wait for change to come from above. I create it. I embody it. I teach it. I structure it. I export it. I write it. I organize it. I live it.
